I recently attended the Skål Asian Area Congress in Delhi, India, the NAASC Skål Congress in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, and the Skål Latin America Congress in Asuncion, Paraguay. The Congresses were very well attended and I was very impressed with the enthusiasm and camaraderie that was evident at these events. A major theme raised at all of these Congresses was that a greater effort needs to be made with membership development, particularly focusing on the recruitment of younger members.

All of these Congresses were very well organised and it was great to see so many Skål-leagues take the opportunity to spend time together in a relaxed environment to discuss issues of common interest as well as enjoy the social and cultural aspects of the programmes.

The Executive Committee of Skål International has progressed further with the appointment of a new Secretary General. We received many applications for the position by the closing date of 31 May and we are now proceeding with the evaluation process and hope to announce the appointment of a new Secretary General at the Skål World Congress in Turku, Finland, in September.

We are currently in the process of moving Skål’s information technology platform to a new software vendor, which will include a significantly improved website with some great new features. This website will include an enhanced Members’ Benefits section as well as the new Skål Greeter program. This will provide more value for our members.

Additional details will be sent via electronic newsletter when the new website is operational and we expect the project to be completed before the forthcoming Congress. We have also developed an application for smart phones and this can be downloaded at no cost from the Skål website. This enables access to the Skål website and will make it easier for our members to do business among friends and access the membership database.

At the Skål World Congress this year, our membership will vote on a number of proposed Statutes changes which are currently available to view in the Members Only section of the Skål website. Many of these Statutes changes are a result of the proposals put forward by the taskforce responsible for the “Repositioning of Skål” who have worked on this project for several years. I urge you to ensure that at least one member of your Club attends this Congress to cast their vote on these very important proposed changes. The Congress organisers have put together a fantastic programme, and I am confident that it will be a very successful event.

Don’t forget whenever you travel to wear your Skål pin as this identifies you as a Skål member and there are almost 20,000 members in 83 countries throughout the world who may recognise you and extend friendship, hospitality and assistance.

I hope to see many of you in Turku in September.
If a Skålleague is in need of help, an application should be sent to the three Trustees. They will assess the request and quickly come to a decision as to the form the assistance will take.

How does it work?

How to Apply for Grant

Go to our website and click on Members Only and Florimond Volckaert Fund. Here you will find the application form. Fill it out, and send it via your International Councillor or Club President to the three Trustees. You can also send it directly to the Trustees, but then the process might take longer.

Your Trustees are:
- Trygve Sødring, President Skål International 1993: sodring@online.no
- Alfonso Passera, President Skål International 2001: alfonso.passera@gmail.com
- Richard Hawkins, President Skål International 2000: richard.hawkins@hawkrentacar.com

EXCELLENT INTERNATIONAL ATTENDANCE AT NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

International Finance Director Marianne Krohn attended the 58th National Assembly of Skål International United Kingdom in Oxford, representing President Tony Boyle. Later she said she was pleased to see several guests from Germany, including International Councillor Herbert Hoffmann, as well as Ireland’s new International Councillor Douglas Jordan and members from The Netherlands.

After the traditional flag raising on Friday by National President Ian Hawkes and Oxford President Joe Hickson the National Assembly commenced with representatives from 13 of the 15 UK clubs in attendance, and a total of 111 people, who were provided with information about the new DVD, the upcoming statues changes and the World Congress in Turku.

Dinner that evening was held in the stunning setting of Mansfield College, where guests were entertained pre-dinner by the Oxford Welsh Male Voice Choir. A lovely touch was the place name settings, which had all been individually hand-crafted by Oxford Skålleague Rita Oxford and ladies from the Townswomen’s Guild on the Isle of Wight.

Saturday was reserved for sightseeing, including a visit to Blenheim Palace, birthplace of Sir Winston Churchill. “We learnt much about the history of the Spencer family during the tour,” said Marianne Krohn, “and then enjoyed a lovely lunch in the former stables. In the afternoon we headed off for a tour of the Cotswolds via Chipping Norton to Stow-on-the-Wold for a short stop to explore this lovely market town.”

Back in Oxford the gala dinner was held at the Four Pillars Hotel, a four-star hotel located right in the centre of Oxford. The honoured guests were Mrs Penelope Glen, High Sheriff of Oxfordshire, and her husband Robert.

As she represents the Queen in Oxfordshire, a toast to Her Majesty was given as well as the traditional Skål toast.

A memorable weekend ended on Sunday morning, with goodbyes to both old and new friends. On behalf of Tony Boyle, Marianne Krohn thanked Skål International Oxford and Skål International United Kingdom for their “grand hospitality”. Next year’s Congress is in Jersey.
Over 100 international delegates, local members and VIPs, including Skål International President Tony Boyle and Vice President Mok Singh and Honourable Chief Minister of Delhi Sheila Dikshit, took part in the 40th Skål Asia Congress in Delhi from 31 March to 2 April.

The Congress featured various cultural and traditional events and shows from different states in India, including Kathak, Kali and Bhangra, showcasing the rich cultural heritage of the host country while also helping to boost tourist traffic.

The main sponsors were Discovery Channel, Radisson Hotel, ITQ, Amadeus, Sky Team and ITC Welcome Group and the hospitality partners Creative Travel, Le Meridien and Spicejet.

Skål International Delhi was the first club in India, when it was originally formed in February 1954 and, at present, it has 194 members – placing it in third position for membership among all Skål clubs throughout the world.

Gerald S.A. Perez was re-elected President of the Skål Asia Area Committee, together with a new board of officers: Vice President Southeast Asia, Marco Giovanni Battistotti (Malaysia – Penang); Vice President East Asia, Raymond Tait (Japan – Osaka); Vice President West Asia, Praveen Chugh (India – Delhi); Director of Membership Development, Jason Samuel (India – Bombay); Director of Finance, Malcolm Scott (Indonesia – Bali); Director of PR & Marketing, Robert Sohn (Korea – Seoul); Director of Young Skål & Scholarship, P. Saravanan (India – Chennai); International Councillor, Graham Blakey (Macau); Executive Secretary, Ivo Nekpavil (Malaysia – Kuala Lumpur).

In his address to the Congress, Gerald Perez said, “Above all, on behalf of all Skålleagues in the region, I would like to express my sincere condolences to those victims and wish a fast recovery for those who have been affected by the devastating earthquake and tsunami that hit the north-eastern part of Japan.”

In accordance with the “Green Conference” theme agreed by the Skål Asia board in 2009, no prints were distributed to participants, all presentation material was emailed in advance and a tree-planting ceremony was held in the gardens of Le Meridien Hotel.

The next Skål Asia Congress will be in Penang, Malaysia, from 10 - 13 May 2012; while Colombo, Sri Lanka, will host the 2013 Congress.

During the 49th Annual NAASC Congress held in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, Skål International USA (SIUSA) inducted Llana Y. Smith as its first ever Madam President.

“Since her induction into Skål International Memphis in 1994, Llana has worked her way up through Skål International USA committees, held positions in administration and helped to grow the organisation through her participation in most of the past Skål International World Congresses and NAASC Congresses since 2003.” said Skål International Vice President Mok Singh, who attended the Congress with his wife Renu.

“When her vision, work and community service experience over the years, Llana is ideally qualified to manage and grow our organisation in the USA.”

The NAASC Congress is a collaboration of three National Committees – Mexico, Canada and the USA – as well as the affiliated Clubs in the Caribbean, who meet annually on a rotation among the four areas.

At the 49th NAASC Congress, hosted by Skål International Puerto Vallarta and the National Committee of Mexico, over 250 Skål members and spouses were treated to caballeros on horseback bringing in the participating countries’ flags during the Opening Ceremony, a sunset beach party for the President’s reception and a black-tie Farewell Dinner featuring the Mexican Naval Orchestra.
As President of the Puerto Vallarta Club and General Manager of the headquarters hotel, the Fiesta Americana Puerto Vallarta, Francisco Rangel ensured his chef and food and beverage staff provided outstanding quality and service.

Skål International President Tony Boyle and his wife Anne commented on how captivated they were by the surrounding beauty of the area, and vowed to come back one day to enjoy all that the west coast of Mexico has to offer.

Vice President Enrique Quesada, who hails from Guadalajara, kept a close eye on his local team in Puerto Vallarta and was very pleased at how well they designed the Congress and how efficiently they executed the events.

Skål International Sacramento won the vote to host the 51st NAASC Congress in 2013. Next year’s Congress will be in Bermuda in April.

THE SKÅL EXPERIENCE…with the famous Latin American touch

The 38th Latin American Congress in Asunción (Paraguay) was attended by 234 Skål leagues, representing 10 countries in Central and South America, as well as delegates from Spain, Mexico, Australia and Israel.

Once again the abundant imagination, meticulous coordination and proven hospitality of Paraguay was an enduring feature of an event organised every year by a different country in the region.

Many countries previously hosting the Congress have demonstrated impeccable organisational credentials, providing interesting formal gatherings as well as great traditional entertainment, where any language differences are overcome by friendly gestures, where easy smiles reign and where happiness is contagious. This is one of the renowned features of all Latin American countries.

Variety is another quality of our continent. The landscape, the traditions, and an ample and open culture make all countries an authentic attraction – based on this variety. The tastes and flavours of food influenced by the diversity of the historic origins also make Latin American cuisine an added attraction.

Nobody expresses this feeling better than President, Tony Boyle: “I very much hope more Skål leagues throughout the world will attend a Skål Latin America Congress because it is a wonderful experience not to be missed. There is a perception that you need to speak Spanish to enjoy the Congress but this is not correct. Language is not a problem and the Skål leagues at the Congress are some of the friendliest people I have ever met.”

Throughout these years of Skål existence in the region, Skål leagues have enjoyed the hospitality facilitated by meetings that involve a true ambience of friendship and camaraderie, an important principle of our organisation worldwide.

Our key objective in Latin America is to significantly intensify the recruitment of new members and thus increase the presence and strength of our organisation.

NORDEN AREA CONGRESS NEWS

The Norden Area Committee met in Oslo on 29 May. Important topics discussed at the meeting included the future role of the Area Committee in order to increase business and other values for members, and highlights from the Task Force report on the repositioning of Skål and our role in its implementation.

The Norden Area Committee comprises six countries, 16 Clubs and 871 Skål members.
Excellent potential for growth in Mexico

Mexico had the honour of welcoming Skål International to Mexico City in August 1950, an enthusiastic group of tourism professionals committed to promoting co-existence and celebrating friendships among colleagues from the host city and the country.

From that moment, the world of travel and tourism took a different path for everyone. Consequently, just as had occurred 18 years before in France, our country was transformed by the positive influence and direction of Skål International.

The National Committee currently comprises 17 Clubs, most of them from the main tourist destinations and cities, and there is great potential for further growth – a key objective for Skål International Mexico in recent years.

Mexico has an extensive coastline of beaches (more than 11,000 kilometres) along the Pacific Ocean, Caribbean Sea and Gulf of Mexico, and there has been major infrastructure development in these areas, for both regional and international tourism, taking advantage of the warm year-round climate. This enables our neighbours from the north to escape their harsh winters, and provides tourists from the rest of the world and elsewhere in Mexico with the opportunity of enjoying sun and beach almost 12 months of the year.

Cities with a high level of economic activity and highly regarded historical areas also offer a special attraction to visitors seeking a combination of typical local cuisine, international gastronomy and commercial activities, combined with venerable areas that evoke Mexico’s culture of the past 10 centuries.

Most of these destinations have a Skål Club – including traditional Acapulco, Mazatlán, Cozumel, Manzanillo, Puerto Vallarta and Veracruz and modern-day Cancún, Ixtapa, Riviera Maya, Los Cabos and Huatulco – where visitors will always find a warm, friendly and cheerful Mexican welcome within the Skål movement.

Cities offering a hospitable urban ambience are Monterrey, Guadalajara, Puebla, Tijuana, Querétaro; as well as, of course, Mexico City – the city where it all began for Skål in Mexico.

Our National Committee holds five meetings a year, four committee meetings and an annual assembly, with the venue rotated among Clubs throughout the country. These meetings are open to committee members, Club presidents and any Skålleagues who would like to meet up and enjoy a weekend with local members and visiting guests. There is often golf in the morning, as well as two lunches, the committee meeting, a President’s dinner and a tour of places of interest in the host destination. These gatherings are, of course, also open to international Skålleagues, and it would be a pleasure for us to welcome you at any time.

All our Clubs hold at least one meeting a month, a gourmet lunch with fine cuisine, wines and aperitifs, usually included in the annual fee paid by members to their Club. These meetings are also open to Skålleagues from other national or international Clubs and, with their deep traditional roots, they are important in maintaining strong ties among members.

Mexico is gradually adhering to Skål International’s new concepts, convinced that updating, energising and revitalising our association, and striving to remain in the vanguard of our industry, is indispensable if we are to keep the movement alive with real options of growth – while supporting the important Skål principle of “Doing Business Among Friends”.

Susan Field is a professional and her finger is on the pulse. I would like to canvas the opinion of all of our younger members, and hopefully some of us who are still young at heart, to seriously consider the proposal.

In 1972, after graduating from St. Stephen’s College in Delhi, Mok Singh arrived in Missouri where he received a degree in Travel Administration and Management from Columbia College; he began his career in the travel profession (World Travel Services) and later worked for Wilson Travels in Kansas City. After three years at Wilson, Mok moved to Los Angeles where he worked for Chicago-based Patson Travels. Initially hired as Director of Sales for the South Western USA, he was promoted to the position of Vice-President of Sales and Marketing based in Chicago. In 1981, Mok went into business for himself with his long time friend, Roger Mahal. Travel Promotions Inc., the start-up company, had been established for just over a year, when the opportunity to acquire SITA World Travel Inc, a company with a solid reputation and a long history since 1933, came along. In late 1982, SITA was acquired and by 1983 had merged with Travel Promotions Inc. Mok currently serves as Group President of the SITA World Group with direct responsibility for two of the company’s three operating divisions which are Airline Representation, Information Technologies and Tours Operation. In addition to heading the Airline Division, Mok also heads SITA’s IT Group, operating under the brand “OR Global”. Mok has been accorded the highest honour awarded by the Commonwealth of Kentucky and was inducted into The Honorable Order Of Kentucky Colonels by the Governor in April 2004. Mok has attended and participated in 13 Area Congresses and 17 International Congresses.

Karine Coulanges, after 20 years in the hotel industry as Director of Sales, has joined the HelmsBriscoe Group, the Global Leader in Meetings Procurement in April 2010. In July 2010 she created R.O.S.E. Meetings and Events of which she is the Managing Director in order to increase the scope of her activities and also as a complement to her activities for HelmsBriscoe.

MEMBERSHIP DEVELOPMENT CAMPAIGN

HELP YOUR CLUB TO INCREASE ITS MEMBERSHIP – AND WIN A SPECIAL CONGRESS PRIZE!

Every member who introduces a new member between 1 March and 30 August 2011 is eligible to win a Congress Only registration (not including accommodation) for the 73rd Skål World Congress in Seoul & Incheon (Korea) in September 2012. The name of the prize-winner will be drawn at the International Council meeting to be held during the Turku Skål World Congress and announced at the President’s Gala Dinner. Members do not have to be there to be eligible – though this would be preferable.

SKÅL MEMBERSHIP DEVELOPMENT AWARD PROGRAMME

The Skål Membership Development Award Programme has proven to be very popular with Skål Clubs throughout the world. Skål Clubs that increase their membership over the previous year by a net 10% or more, or that introduce 10 new members or more after allowing for members who leave, qualify for a commendation certificate which is presented at the President’s Gala Dinner during the Skål World Congress each year. The programme was recently enhanced with the awarding of special framed commendations to the top three Skål Clubs: Platinum Award, Gold Award and Silver Award.

At the Sydney World Congress last October, a total of 76 Skål Clubs qualified for these Awards, which is a fantastic achievement given that the travel and tourism industry is going through what is arguably one of its most difficult financial periods.

In addition, Diversey will present, on its own initiative, a Special Recognition Award to one of the projects entering the competition.

The deadline for receipt of entries at the General Secretariat has now passed and the projects received have been sent to the independent judges, who have already started to evaluate them in their respective categories.

The evaluation period will end in mid-July, when each judge will return their scores to the General Secretariat. The marks provided by each independent judge will then be totalled in order to determine the winner in each category.

This year we have received a total of 33 projects, from 18 different countries (four from Africa, seven from Asia, eleven from Europe, seven from North America, three from Central America and one from South America).

GLOBAL SUCCESS

“Sustainable Development In Tourism” Awards

For 10 consecutive years, Skål International has run a successful awards programme to highlight best practices in tourism around the world and the importance of the conservation of the environment, through the interaction of the physical, cultural and social environment, the traveller’s responsibility and the need for active community participation for sustainability.

Since the launch of the awards in 2002, they have received strong ongoing support and attracted a high level of participation, with a total of 417 entrants.

With the assessment of our main sponsor, the Diversey company, we have decided to consider eco and responsible tourism as part of the greater picture of sustainable tourism, and this has resulted in the creation of newly renamed trophies and a re-branded logo. One of the main changes this year is that the former Ecotourism Awards will now be known as the Sustainable Development in Tourism Awards.

Once again this year, Diversey will collaborate financially and will produce the certificates and trophies presented to the winners during the Opening Ceremony of the Skål World Congress in Turku on 19 September 2011.

In addition, Diversey will present, on its own initiative, a Special Recognition Award to one of the projects entering the competition.

World Travel Market, the leading global event for the travel industry, has opened registration for WTM 2011 – which will focus on the emerging sector of sports tourism and particularly the Olympic Games, with it being the final WTM before the 2012 London Olympics.

Next summer the Olympics comes to the east London home of WTM, with its host venue ExCeL playing a prominent role in hosting such sports as boxing, fencing, judo, taekwondo, table tennis, weightlifting and wrestling.

To celebrate, promote, discuss and debate the role the travel and tourism industry will play in the success of the 2012 Games, World Travel Market will for the first time have two headline sessions on sports tourism.

World Travel Market first launched its sports tourism events programme in 2009 with a headline session profiling the recent Winter Olympics, 2010 football World Cup and 2012 London Olympics. Last year’s session also highlighted the London Olympics, with the event chaired by UK Athletics Chief Executive David Moorcroft.

This year the first session will take place on Monday 7 November from 3.00 to 4.30pm and the second on Wednesday 9 November from 2.30 to 3.30pm. The sessions are in Platinum Suite 4 and Platinum Suite 3, respectively.

According to World Travel Market Exhibition Director Simon Press, “The London Olympics is arguably the biggest promotional opportunity for the UK inbound travel industry in a generation. WTM 2011 will focus on what the industry needs to achieve to maximise this opportunity. The two headline sessions will prove to be essential viewing for not only all those involved in making the London Olympics a success but also those countries hosting similarly high-profile sporting events in the future.”

To pre-register visit: www.wtmLondon.com/skal.

Meanwhile, WTM 2011 plans to build on the success of WTM 2010, which was expected to lead to a massive £1,425 million in travel and tourism contracts being signed. The amount WTM 2010 generated for the industry was 25% more than 2009, which attracted £1,139 million in industry deals.

The impressive scale of business conducted at WTM led to 96% of exhibitors stating that WTM was important to their business. Exhibitor satisfaction rose to 94%, with 66% either completely or very satisfied, compared with 59% in 2009. Visitor satisfaction of WTM stood at an impressive 93%.

More than seven out of 10 exhibitors (71%) said WTM was the best or better than most events, compared with 67% in 2009 and 65% in 2008.

Furthermore, an impressive 96% of exhibitors indicated they were extremely or very likely to exhibit at WTM 2011, with a massive 98% of visitors extremely or very likely to attend this year’s event, which takes place between 7 and 10 November.

“World Travel Market 2010 has seen, and will lead to, a phenomenal amount of travel and tourism industry business being agreed,” added Simon Press. “The expanded speed networking programme played an important role in the success of WTM for both exhibitors and Meridian Club members, offering both stakeholders increased opportunities to meet new contacts and sign contracts.

“The amount of business conducted and the findings from the exhibitor and visitor research shows WTM is delivering on its commitment to facilitate business in the travel and tourism industry.”

EIBTM IN BARCELONA: New ideas and inspiration

EIBTM 2011 offers visitors an excellent opportunity to find out what’s new and where to plan their next meeting, incentive, conference or event. With over 3,500 exhibiting companies from all over the world, this year’s EIBTM is held from 29 November to 1 December in Barcelona, a city that is annually rated as one of the leading destinations in the world for meetings, according to the latest ICCA Survey.

There are two ways to attend: as a hosted buyer, enabling you to pre-schedule appointments with suppliers of your choice at the show; or as a trade visitor, where you are free to make your own itinerary and diary.

This year, there will be more new exhibitors, from destinations to hotel companies, venue services to conference organisers. In addition many exhibitors have increased their stand size to accommodate more partners, and are therefore offering an even wider product range and greater choice.

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION INITIATIVES

One of the most popular features of EIBTM is the cutting edge Professional Education Programme, which comprises a comprehensive and diverse series of seminars, workshops and conferences, addressing the latest issues and meetings industry hot topics.

There is something for everyone and at all professional levels, and all sessions in the EIBTM Education Programme are CMP accredited, increasing personal development and allowing delegates to earn CEU (Continuing Education Units) points.

TECHNOLOGY INITIATIVES

EIBTM is extending its reach via TV and other online initiatives. EIBTM TV will take the event to a multi-channel platform, reaching a community of 14,000 industry professionals in Barcelona. EIBTM TV will broadcast from a studio hub via a network of highly visible screens on the show floor throughout the event. EIBTM TV is also available online 365 days a year at www.eibtm.com and provides the industry with education on demand, news and reviews.

The new EIBTM online community, Connect@EIBTM, will enable connections to be made even before the event for all pre-registered visitors, through a business-led social networking site.

NETWORKING AND EVENTS

It is not all about business: EIBTM is famous for its networking events and this year is no exception. From the official welcome reception to the ever-popular

SKÅL AT IMEX. New initiatives and positive progress in Frankfurt

This year the Skål International stand at IMEX was very well-placed in a very busy corridor opposite the Czech Republic, and this meant we had more visitors than usual.

The Fair is always professional and well-organised, both with regard to exhibitors and visitors, and the 2011 edition provided a lot of good contacts and business opportunities.

This year, thanks to the support of Skål International Frankfurt am Main (and we would like to take this opportunity to thank in particular Thomas Hilberath, Thomas Aurich, Manfred Traiser, Claus Glinicke and Thomas Giesick for their efficient assistance during the whole Fair), we were able to ensure that the stand was well-attended at all times in order to welcome visitors, Skål-leagues and potential members in great conditions.

On 24 May the President and Commissioner General of IMEX, Ray Bloom, visited us at the Skål stand and Nik Racic, International President 2010, presented him with the Corporate Order of Skål Merit in acknowledgement of his support of Skål International.

Another novelty this year, replacing the traditional dinner at the Intercontinental Hotel on the Thursday evening, was that Skål International Frankfurt am Main had obtained the authorisation to organise, at 9am (i.e. one hour before the Fair officially opened to visitors), a breakfast at the magnificent German Convention Bureau stand. This was also a great success, with the presence of Matthias Schultz, Managing Director of the German Convention Bureau, and Ray Bloom, owner of the IMEX Trade Show.

We believe that this breakfast meeting at the Fair is extremely professional and could, in the future, draw more people than the dinner on the Thursday evening, as many people leave that same day. We hope to be able to repeat this experience next year and promote the event in advance with online registration. Some positive results are that we had three people fill out membership applications and we made contacts for the possible creation of two new Clubs and the reactivation of the former Club in Moscow.

Business cards collected will be used for follow-ups, with a personalised e-mail with a Membership Proposal Form attached and further follow-up by the General Secretariat.

This year we organised a “Get-Together Party” at the stand on the Tuesday, thanks to the generous participation of Croatia. More than 40 Skål-leagues were present, including Hulya Aslantas, International President 2009; Nic Racic, International President 2010; Bent Hadler, President of the International Skål Council; Karine Coulanges, Skål International Communications and P.R. Director; and potential Skål-leagues whom we had invited to join us. In total, around 60 people attended this event. It was a great success because the time chosen was better than during the lunch hour and our position also helped.

We are planning to improve communications before next year’s Fair with the help of Skål International Frankfurt am Main. Together with Manfred Traiser we identified potential improvements for next year: larger posters, Skål International roll-ups, a larger TV screen placed higher up for better visibility, etc. It was a good Fair but we can still do better.

Graeme Barnett, EIBTM event director, comments, “With so many events taking place during EIBTM week, including officially scheduled EIBTM events and others organised by EIBTM partners and associations, our aim is to provide inspiration and a platform to maximise the business potential for all show attendees.”

The Motivation Show has announced the education program for the fifth annual conference: Connecting Engagement, Loyalty, and Financial Results, scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, 4-5 October 2011. The Meeting & Event Management Learning Track will feature topics that include:

- Hybrid and Virtual Meeting Strategies: A Primer for Taking Your Event Online
- Thought-Leaders Panel: A 360 Degree SMMP Case Study
- Incentive Travel Trends, Forecasts and Best Practices: An Interactive Panel to Improve Program Performance
- SMMP: What You Really Need to Know! (An Interactive Session)
- Taking the Plunge: Effective Uses of Social Media for Meetings and Events (A Hands-On Session)

It has also been announced that the Incentive Research Foundation (IRF) will produce a symposium entitled The Next Level: New uses, research and tools supporting the business benefits of non-cash motivators, on Tuesday, 4 October. The IRF Symposium will feature a full-day of education that includes:

- Award Type Study – a session to deliver the results of a seminal study on award use in the United States and provide a place for robust discussion on what these results mean to individual and program performance.
- Recognition Travel Case Study – a session to present the results of a year-long case study of a large telecommunications company and the effective use of travel rewards for non-sales employees.
- Workplace Wellness Programs – a session to provide a primer on the state of workplace wellness programs and the role of incentives, with an overview of pertinent studies, reports, academic journals, and articles.
- Staying Trendy – a session to provide an in-depth review of where we have been and where the industry is heading, based on the IRF’s multi-year pulse study and trend tracking.
- Advancements in ROI Measurement – a hands-on demonstration that will explain how to use the IRF’s FREE ROI tool to forecast outcomes and produce actual ROI numbers.
- The Next Level: Critical Discussions in Revitalising the Incentives Industry – an interactive session to review the results of the most recent pulse study and engage attendees in provocative questions around what is necessary to truly move our industry to the next level.

The Motivation Show will once again offer a Hosted Buyer Program for qualified buyers of incentive travel, meetings, conferences, conventions or other group travel programs (including corporate buyers, incentive and meeting planners and other travel resellers).

Hosted buyers receive complimentary accommodations, registration and hospitality services, in exchange for attending a minimum of 12 pre-scheduled appointments with exhibitors. They will be provided with detailed user information through the MotivationConnect Appointment Scheduler, powered by Bravura Technologies, which matches buying interests with appropriate exhibitors and facilitates the exchange of information and appointment requests.

The Motivation Show is the world’s largest collection of ideas to engage, motivate, inspire, reward, connect and thank employees, customers and members. The show features more than 50 seminars and over 500 suppliers of incentive merchandise, meeting and travel services.

Karl Twiggs 1935-2011
Diligent, enthusiastic and charming

A TRIBUTE BY TONY CLEGG-BUTT • PRESIDENT SKÅL INTERNATIONAL 2002

Karl was a good friend of mine, way before our heady days together in Skål International. We were members of a policemen’s “Band of Brothers” in colonial Africa – he in northern Rhodesia, I to the south. When we first met in the travel industry in long ago South Africa we struck up a friendship born of common purpose.

Karl was very social and loved by all – he meant what he said and did what he said. What you saw was what you got, take it or leave it. Few could resist his charm, warm smile and twinkle of eye.

We mourn his loss and send our condolences to his family and to Skålleagues in South Africa. The Skål worldwide family shares your loss.
Get It. DONE.

POSITIVE TRENDS IN LATEST INDEX OF OPTIMISM POLL

According to North American buyers and suppliers, meetings market confidence is on the rise and the outlook for the worldwide meetings, incentive travel and events industry appears brighter than at any time over the past year.

The second IMEX America Index of Optimism poll of North American meetings industry buyers and suppliers found that optimism and business levels are higher than they have been for at least six months. The survey was conducted among 190 North American respondents during March. When asked if “demand for your services has grown during the past six months”, nearly 73% confirmed that it had, while only nine% felt they had seen no growth. Just over 18% reported no change against the previous six-month period. These results remain consistent with previous patterns of growth and confidence shown in the poll. The survey also questioned respondents about whether they had been attracting any business from new sources recently, extrapolating this as an indicator of general market health and potential expansion. Just over 79% confirmed they had been winning business from new sources, nearly six% had seen no such trend emerging and for just over 15% there had been no change. For the previous six-month period, just over 31% said that this pattern “was about the same” as before but just over 65% deemed it “definitely better”, suggesting that confidence and expectations are both higher than they have been for a while.

In addition, respondents were asked if they saw “evidence from the last six months that events are attracting more attendees or that spending per participant has increased”. Nearly 55% responded positively, stating that they did see evidence, although nearly 25% saw no signs of such increases, and nearly 21% were “not sure”. Once again results are almost exactly in line with previous findings, suggesting that, although volumes of meetings and events business are returning, delegate behaviour at those events has yet to return to pre-downturn levels.

When it came to accurately forecasting if the worst of the recent market difficulties were over, respondents appeared reconciled to uncertainty for the time being. Although a slight majority – just over 35% – believed the worst was now firmly in the past, just over 30% did not feel the same way, and just over 34% were still simply “not sure”. However, underlying these findings was a solid foundation of increased optimistic sentiment. Asked if they felt “more or less optimistic about the meetings industry than a year ago”, 73% stated that they felt more optimistic than this time last year; four% were less optimistic and a further 22.6% felt “about the same”.

A new trade show for the worldwide meetings, events and incentive travel industry, the inaugural IMEX America will take place from 11 to 13 October at the Sands Expo, which is connected to the show’s Headquarters Hotel, the Venetian/Palazzo. The show’s strategic partner and premier educational provider is MPI, who will deliver a unique line-up of speakers and education for IMEX America attendees starting on “Smart Monday”, 10 October, with the MPI MeetDifferent Day of Education and Innovation and continuing throughout the show.

According to the organisers, “IMEX America will offer a unique model of trade show, new to the U.S. market… It will assure exhibitors of meeting and making business appointments on their booths with in excess of 2,000 highly qualified hosted buyers. The majority (80%) of these hosted buyers will come from North America, with the balance from the rest of the world. In addition, thousands of additional U.S. buyer attendees are expected to participate from across North America.”

Entrance to the show and its educational program is free of charge. Attendee registration is now open at: www.imexamerica.com

WORLD CONGRESS
ONLINE CONNECTIONS TO THE BEST OF TURKU

In Turku we are trying to minimise the use of paper and unnecessary “hand work” when it comes to booking your social events: excursions, dine arounds and sauna rounds, as well as the ladies’ Presidential Gala make-over and hair appointments.

This is why we want to introduce you to the Lyyti software, which you can use to pre-book all social events before you even land in Finland. Log in to www.skal2011.com, use the Lyyti link from the main page and be the first ones to secure the best restaurants, the most exotic saunas and the most appealing excursions, before other visiting Skål leagues. Many dine around options have a limited number of seats available so this really is when “the early bird catches the worm!”

Secure the best options for Turku World Congress excursions, dine arounds, sauna rounds and more with the help of the Lyyti online reservations system.

The upcoming Skål World Congress in Turku will have many (perhaps to some) different – even exotic – social events. We are also aiming to be the first “green congress” after the Green Globe certification received by Skål International’s head office. When these two aspects are combined, Lyyti steps into the picture.

We have 14 restaurant options to choose from for your dine arounds; we have booked real Finnish saunas in the city with beautiful archipelago surroundings; we have room for you on an excursion to the autonomous Åland Islands in the middle of the Baltic Sea or on a tour to the seaside city of Naantali; and there are hairdressers lined up to help you look fabulous for the gala.

All these, and many more, can – and should – be pre-booked with Lyyti. No more standing in a queue fighting over a seat in your preferred restaurant: sit back in front of your computer and make your choice. All the information is readily available and booking is easy. All you then need to do is travel to Turku and enjoy your stay!

Skål International Wien members celebrated the club’s 75th anniversary in conjunction with the official ceremony for the 2011 Skål Tourism Quality Award. It was the eighth time the award had been presented in Austria.

This year’s winners were Dr. Franz Mag Sattlecker and DI Dr. Wolfgang Kippes, managing directors of Schloß Schönbrunn Kultur- und Betriebsges.mbH. Heinz G. Risska, President of Skål International Vienna and Austria, presented the award in recognition of their commitment to and efforts in support of the preservation and revitalisation of Austrian historic monuments and sights – resulting in significant improvements in the quality of Vienna’s tourism infrastructure.

In his eulogy for the two winners, Skål International Wien board member KR Walter Straub said Dr. Sattlecker and Dr. Kippes had been in charge of the Schloß Schönbrunn Kultur- und Betriebsges.mbH company for nearly 19 years. It had been founded in 1992, taking over the main agendas of the Schloß Schönbrunn Kultur- und Betriebsges.mbH. Heinz G. Risska, President of Skål International Vienna and Austria, Mag Dr. Franz Sattlecker is – in addition to his involvement with the Schönbrunn – also contributing editor for arts management at the University of Music and Performing Arts. He stressed that quality will be the major theme in tourism in coming years, and the Skål Tourism Quality Award, initiated by Skål International Austria in 2004, is regarded as a particularly important milestone.

As well as his work as technical director, specialist and internationally recognised expert, DI Dr. Wolfgang Kippes has been honorary professor at the College of Applied Arts since 2010. He described working at the Schönbrunn as a great opportunity, especially as the value of sustainability can be highlighted by applying managerial skills to historic buildings. Karine Coulanges, Skål International Director for Communications and Public Relations, outlined the importance of the Skål Tourism Quality Award and also presented the official Anniversary Certificate to Skål International Wien on the occasion of its 75th anniversary.

One year later, the new bespoke vessel was ready to make the journey back to the Island of Usedom. UK Past National President John Bright and President of Skål International Southampton Dieter Schlieben were present at the “naming ceremony”, as was our mutual friend Herbert Hoffman (Skål International Councillor for Germany) who joined Eddy, Sean Stevens (the manufacturer) and myself on the journey east. The vessel is a catamaran, christened “Carmen Calypso” after Eddy’s daughter, which is 10 metres long by four metres wide, with two 150hp Yanmar diesel engines on board providing a top speed of 26 knots.

An 11-hour journey across a very placid North Sea found us in Blankenberge (Belgium), where we were welcomed by Skålleague Willy Leyesen and Skål International Director Ann Lootens of Skål International Belgische Kust en Vlaanderen. We had taken some good advice from an experienced seaman, the Treasurer of Skål International Rotterdam-The Hague Martin Van Dyke, and arrived the next evening in Harlingen on the north coast of Holland after another unusually calm day.

Day three saw us staying overnight at an excellent marina next to the Kiel Canal in Rendsburg before entering the Baltic Sea the following day and witnessing the true capabilities of Eddy’s baby on the choppy waves. This was quite an experience for Herbert and myself but we managed to avoid sickness and enjoy the “fun”.

The weather had slowed us down somewhat and we needed one more overnight stay in Rostock prior to a warm welcome from our families who had journeyed to Usedom. Eddy – ever generous – hosted a beautiful dinner for us all at his excellent Hotel DuenenSchloss in Bansin.

This was not a typical “Doing Business Among Friends” but it is a wonderful example of the friendship and mutual respect that Skål engenders among its membership. Eddy is so thankful for the support he received from everyone, another example of the adage: If it wasn’t for Skål…
