Environmental Responsability in the Tourism Industry

More than one hundred million tourists who travel around the world every year make Tourism a powerful and transforming drive, greatly influencing millions of peoples' lives in all aspects.

Sustainability was not a real problem for us 10 years ago. Nowadays, however, we are more competitive if we are indeed more responsible with the environment. We should make a difference by raising awareness about the importance of a more sustainable development among the businessmen and executives who make decisions as well as among the general public. The countless applications that a product such as Stone Paper has in the Tourism Industry surely guarantees a highly responsible consumption with the full backing of a certified seal of quality.

Dear Skálleagues, it has been my privilege and honour to serve as your President for the last 11 months and I now have only a few short weeks to go before I pass on the chain of office.

It has been an interesting but also very challenging year. You will hear from the Executive Committee and you will see from the reports submitted some of the issues that have been faced. Those of you who will be at the World Congress in Hyderabad will also hear more about what has been happening.

Skål continues to face challenging times with the membership still declining. It is, however, important to note that every year we attract a reasonable number of new members this is not keeping pace with the number being lost. Susanna Saari and Lavonne Wittmann have spearheaded the “Why I left Skål” initiative which we hope will help us all, from the club level to the Executive Committee, obtain an understanding of the key reasons.

Throughout my travels I have heard many times that we need to make Skål more relevant to all groups and mainly the “Millenniums” so it will be important for all of us to think how we can achieve this and what initiatives or projects we need to undertake in order to make the experience of joining Skål relevant for the younger generations, whilst not forgetting the needs of our current, core members.

The Executive Committee continues to endeavour to control expenses that can be managed so that we are able to operate within the financial constraints we are faced with. This is not an easy task since there are fixed costs which we have that are not easy to change. They would require very drastic and expensive measures to change, which are really not practical at the current time.

One of the Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) for the C.E.O. is and has been to identify new sponsorship which Daniela Otero has indicated is difficult to achieve within the current IT structure. Consequently an IT review is currently being undertaken to see what needs or should be done in order to change operations. In the meantime she will continue to endeavour to try to attract sponsorship. This year to date net cash sponsorship has been Euros 17438 plus a discount deal for members attending the congress through the One World Alliance of airlines and an advertising deal with TV5, the French-speaking television channel.

You will see from Daniela’s report what she plans for the coming year and let us hope but this and the changes will result in additional sponsorship being obtained.

The individual member continues to be the core of what Skål is all about and the support of the individual clubs makes Skål the organisation we all love. Last year 55 clubs achieved more than a 10% growth in membership; this is very commendable and it would be nice if more clubs were able to achieve such a goal this year.

Many members, however, do not get the opportunity to experience or take advantage of the tremendous network

MESSAGE from the PRESIDENT of like-minded people Skål has around the world that can assist you with your personal and professional travel plans by giving you local insights into the area and can also help you should you be sending clients to a new destination.

The use of the global network and the potential business to business opportunities available continue to be a strong pillar of Skål and is one of the key benefits which is not used as much as it should be so I would ask Club members and their committees to explain the opportunities that are available and which all members have access to.

In the coming years we need to become as productive as possible to provide tangible benefits to the members so that they really value their membership, enjoy the amicale and also the whole Skål experience from the local through to the international level.

In closing I would just like to say that I have enjoyed my term of office immensely and all that remains for me to say is that I hope to see as many of you as possible next year for the Congress in my home country, Kenya.

NOTE FROM THE CEO

On 27 September International Tourism Day will be celebrated and this year’s theme is “Sustainable tourism as an instrument for development”. The intention is to make the international community aware of the importance of tourism given its social, cultural, political and economic aspects.

World Tourism Day is a unique opportunity to raise awareness of the contribution of sustainable tourism on development while encouraging everyone to work together to make tourism a catalyst for positive change.

This year’s UNWTO meeting in Doha, Qatar will discuss key issues and provide a platform for the exchange of views, perspectives and experiences. It will address the changes that tourism needs in order to become a more effective development tool and will present real case and good practices from around the world.

Since 1980 this date has been chosen because it is especially suitable to coincide with the end of the high season in the Northern hemisphere and the beginning of the high season in the Southern hemisphere, a time when tourism is in the minds of millions of people worldwide.

My schedule will not permit me to attend this year’s meeting in Doha but I will, of course, share the results of this interesting meeting with you once I receive them.

Whilst this meeting is taking place we will be in the countdown to Hyderabad, packing suitcases, etc. It is the final stretch, all our team and members are eager to know what our Indian Skålleagues have prepared to welcome the participants from more than 40 countries who will be participating in this World Congress.

To do things well you have to have the will but to make them happen in an excellent manner you must have passion! Our Indian Skålleagues have shown over the months of work that they have the passion and this will guarantee an incredible experience.

COUNCILLOR’S CORNER

Dear Friends,

It is a pleasure to address all of you from this special corner. When Lavonne Wittmann, the Director of PR & Communications asked me to post a message to this magazine, I accepted without any hesitation because this would be a great opportunity for me to emphasise more on our upcoming Silent Auction event that will be held during the Hyderabad Congress.

I have been a member of Skål International Antalya for 30 years. I can simply say Skål has played such an important role in my life and given me the chance to meet such great people and work side by side while taking various roles including President of Skål International Antalya, Turkey.

I have attended 18 Skål Congresses and even ran a “world congress campaign” internationally, this has been an amazing ride.

As the recently elected Councillor of Turkey, I decided to volunteer for a different role in Skål and offered to organise a “Silent Auction” during the Hyderabad Congress. Silent Auctions had been organised many times during past Congresses for the Florimond Volckaert Fund, however this time it is going to be for different purpose. The decision was taken by the Councillors during the Mid Year Meeting (MYM) in order to strengthen our Membership Development Fund (MDF).

Due to the fact that our membership development tools need to be enriched, I believe we need to open minds to new ways of thinking and working to enhance the value we create on many levels. The current MDF does not seem adequate so we need to enrich the funds in order to get more out of it.

I, therefore, invite you to take responsibility for the change and bring along an item with you to the congress so that we can expose it at our Silent Auction. By supporting the Silent Auction you/we support the MDF and by doing that we support Skål to grow even more and hence play a part worldwide.

Looking forward to seeing and meeting you in Hyderabad,

By Asuman Tariman,
Councillor, Skål International Turkey

OFFICIAL MESSAGE ON WORLD TOURISM DAY

Message by Taleb Rifai, Secretary-General, World Tourism Organization (UNWTO)

WATCH THE VIDEO: “Sustainable Tourism – a Tool for Development”

Tourism is today the 3rd largest export industry in the world after chemicals and fuels. It brings hope, prosperity and understanding to so many lives and livelihoods all over the world.

Last year alone, 1.235 million travellers crossed international borders in one single year. By 2030, this 1.2 billion will become 1.8 billion.

The question, as we celebrate World Tourism Day 2017, is how we can enable this powerful global transformative force, these 1.8 billion opportunities, to contribute to make this world a better place and to advance sustainable development in all its 5 pillars:

1. Economic: yielding inclusive growth;
2. Social: bringing decent jobs and empowering communities;
3. Environmental: preserving and enriching the environment and addressing climate change;
4. Cultural: celebrating and preserving diversity, identity, and tangible and intangible culture, and
5. Peace: as an essential prerequisite for development and progress.

The UN General Assembly declared 2017 as the International Year of Sustainable Tourism for Development. This is a unique opportunity for all of us to come together to promote the contribution of travel and tourism as a grand 21st century human activity, to build a better future for people, planet, peace and prosperity.

This World Tourism Day, whenever you travel, wherever you travel, remember to:
RESPECT NATURE,
RESPECT CULTURE,
RESPECT YOUR HOST.

YOU CAN BE THE CHANGE YOU WANT TO SEE IN THE WORLD. YOU CAN BE AN AMBASSADOR FOR A BETTER FUTURE.

TRAVEL, ENJOY AND RESPECT.

THE DIGITAL MIRROR V1.0

LIKE EVERY ONE OF US’ PHYSICAL APPEARANCE REFLECTS ON THE MIRROR, OUR EXISTENCE ALSO REFLECTS ON INTERNET. WE MAY COUNT EVERY SOCIAL MEDIA (SM), BLOG, WEB CHANNELS AS PARTS OF IT. SO AS YOUR HOTEL, RESTAURANT, AIRLINE, ETC.

WHY ONLINE?

When we were using traditional marketing instruments, huge amounts of funds were being spent in comparison with online marketing. It is now much easier to target your audience, demography, geography and to measure all of them. Old-school ads are already directing you to the foundations’ SM channels. On SM, we may even search the competitors and improve our strategic documents like SWOT, competitor check, positioning, etc.

The guests will definitely debate our operation, whether online or traditional. With online feedback, we have chances to control, observe and interact with our audience. Our main objective is to gain. SM gives us the opportunity to gain reputation, trust, a sustainable PR operation; but not money. Money [if you feel you must boost or publish ads online] and SM professionals are only the initiators of your 21st century hospitality operation’s turnover.

The most commonly used SM instruments are Facebook, Instagram and Twitter globally by having many different dynamics and algorithms. Of course, the usage differs on the country’s web habits and they reflect a guest’s experience online. “I want all those SM channels for the establishment.” is also not the right attitude for a hotel or restaurant.

TAKE IT EASY!

Believe it or not, SM management is almost as significant as your sales strategy. SM posts should not be boring [even emojis are recommended], must be clear and short. That means, breaking the rules of traditional marketing is the rule. Imagine every detail as geo tag, HD or 360 degree photos, relevant hashtags are the indicators of your profession. Remember the websites are boring anymore, less reliable, harder to update. Consider it is an innovative operation.

WHO IS QUALIFIED?

While preparing your SM strategy, the most crucial thing is to be aware of it is a strategic document. So you have to make ready the establishment’s SWOT, positioning or sometime feasibility studies. After all, by considering the target market [boutique, budget hotel or luxury collection, etc.], ads are ready to be published. Of course, it’s the 2nd stage after your SM channels’s configuration and you still need one more thing; a social media specialist (in-house) or a marketing agency.

HOW IT ALL BEGAN…

When I created the AD1644 marketing group which consists of the 1644 Digital Agency, Manipulation Strategic and Erhan Us Visual Arts I already believe in the idea that the marketing of “intangible services” must differ from the marketing of “tangible services” Therefore, we studied new strategies, trends, creating trends and formed the service- industry-marketing group.

TWINNING
INDIAN AND US SKÅL CLUBS TO FACILITATE LARGE SCALE TWINNING PROJECT TO MARK INDIA-US TOURISM YEAR

2017 is India-US Tourism Year to increase bilateral visitation between the two nations, strong democracies from opposite sides of the world.

Born at SATTE, India’s largest travel trade show held in February in New Delhi, attending Skålleagues from Skål International Hyderabad and Skål International Washington came up with the idea of twinning interested US Clubs with all the Skål Clubs in India to celebrate this partnership and bring special attention to India-US Tourism Year at the Skål World Congress in Hyderabad, India, in October.

Through diligent months long efforts, Skålleagues from the United States and India were able to complete the twinning efforts, which will be observed on 6 October at the World Congress. Skål International Washington Skålleague Steve Richer and Skål International Hyderabad Skålleagues Vijay Mohan Raj and NSN Mohan led the effort.

CLUBS TWINNING ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. Bangalore and New Orleans
2. Calcutta and both New York and Northern New Jersey
3. Chennai and Philadelphia
4. Cochin and Boise
5. Delhi and Washington
6. Goa and Miami
7. Hyderabad and both Sacramento and San Francisco
8. Mumbai and both Los Angeles and Orange Coast
9. Poona and Atlanta

This was our first official “value-add” event that will be organised every quarter. We decided that these events must add value to GRYS members that we can take back to our businesses.

We touched on topics of Strategic Growth, continuous education, relationship building inwards and out of our organisations, equipping our businesses and staff and how to create and grow opportunities.

This was a very interactive session and we all had some work that needed to be done in our business. We also started working on a GRYs strategic vision that is currently in progress. With the focus on creating opportunities in and around our communities. “The challenge is not changes, but rather how we handle change” Michael.

From there we went to visit the Youth Café of Groot Brak, where Michael and his team is doing tremendous work on development and education in the local community. The concept is to educate and equip young people and to get the off the streets.

We visited more businesses in the surrounding to see what is happening.

We then went back to Ilita Lodge for brain storming and networking. Yet again Michael and his team supported our initiative and hosted us for a good burger braai (BBQ) with some spectacular view on Great Brak. Some of the GRYS members travel about 200km to attend this very successful function.

By Rohan Minnaar, Young Skål, Garden Route
The first Young Skål Club in Australasia was launched in Christchurch this week.

Young Skål groups were set up by Skål, the largest travel and tourism organisation, in 1999, with the aim of creating a great awareness of the organisation among young people studying for or training in the various sectors of the travel and tourism industry. Until now, however, there have been no Young Skål Clubs established in New Zealand or Australia, according to Bruce Garrett, President of Skål International Christchurch.

"Approximately 40 travel and tourism students from Ara, Avonmore, Lincoln and the NZ School of Tourism were given an introduction to the organisation and a presentation from the Christchurch Skål Club," Garrett says.

The students were then invited to become inaugural members. “Being members of Young Skål will not only give them an opportunity to network with fellow students and young professionals making a start in their careers in travel and tourism but also access to the many leaders and decision makers in the local tourism community who make up the Christchurch Skål Club”.

Garrett says the Christchurch Skål Club has nearly 100 members who are all keen to assist with the development of young talent and many of whom will act as mentors for the Young Skål members. “This will provide a valuable network of contacts for the youngsters and access to a pool of young talent for the professional members.

The Young Skål members will establish their own committee and develop their own meeting schedule and format and will be represented on the board of Christchurch Skål. They will be encouraged to attend regular Skål meetings and events whenever possible. Christchurch Skål will also have representation on the Young Skål board to assist with the Club establishment and ongoing development and to provide a conduit between the two groups.”
It seems to be becoming more and more apparent that the international tourism industry is moving away from all forms of exploitative wildlife interactive tourism and voluntourism. Following on from the recent SATSA conference where the issue of wild animal interactions was vigorously debated, South African leading tourism organizations are now engaged in discussions around what is deemed to be “responsible and ethical tourism”.

It is estimated that there are approximately 8000 captive bred predators being held in small enclosures on 200 breeding farms across the country, very often in cramped conditions with few welfare protocols in place. Most of these facilities offer cub petting, bottle feeding and/or lion walking tourism activities, as well as volunteer opportunities whereby young volunteers may pay up to US$4,000 per month to look after these young animals until such time as they can be killed (for their trophies and/or their bones to be exported to Asia for the bone trade) or shipped off to zoos around the world.
Scientists have repeatedly stated that most of these predator breeding programs have nothing to do with conservation and that they are purely commercial operations making no contribution to the conservation of free roaming lion populations, and that they also do not contribute to education as they do not offer scientifically accepted practices of teaching conservation and animal ecology.

Simply put, these lions are not “orphans” as they have been removed from their mothers within days of birth to induce rapid breeding cycles.

Furthermore, ecologists say it is not practical to rehabilitate captive-bred lions which have not only been hand-raised and bottle fed, but have also lost their fear of humans. Research also shows us that captive bred predators are unlikely to be able to survive in the wild, and that even if this were possible, it would not be considered a viable conservation option as most are genetically compromised due to inbreeding.

So what are some of the questions now being asked by the international tourism industry? What is the reason that South Africa has so many of these facilities... so many sanctuaries... so many rehabilitation and wildlife centers? Are international tourists and volunteers being misled by claims that the animals are “orphans and will be re-wilded” once adults? Where do all the cubs come from, and where do all the adult lions go? Do the breeding facilities meet conservation, scientific and welfare mandates... or are they purely commercial operations? Are critical conservation funds and volunteer efforts being diverted from wild conservation and scientific research projects? Are the volunteer recruitment agencies being secretive about divulgling full details of these projects? How do tourists and volunteers find recognized, authentic projects to support?

It is true that bona fide sanctuaries around the world offer their animals a “home for life”, with no breeding, trading or any kind of interactive tourism activities.

At the end of the day, no international tourist or volunteer would voluntarily support any cycle of exploitation such as that faced by these predators... and other species.  It is crucial that proper research is conducted by before visiting any of these facilities, and that appropriate answers are provided.

The feature documentary Blood Lions™ and subsequent Blood Lions Campaign (www.bloodlions.org) have played an important role in highlighting... these issues and stimulating the debate. And this can be measured by the fact that many key travel organizations from around the world have now distanced themselves from these types of activities. Over 100 leading tourism operators have already signed the Blood Lions “Born to Live Wild” Pledge committing to: endorse responsible and authentic tourism activities; promote South Africa as a wild, rewarding and authentic destination; and to support the conservation of wild lions in their natural habitat.

Earlier this year the Blood Lions “Born to Live Wild” Campaign won Joint “Overall Winner” at the African Responsible Tourism Awards (ARTA17) at WTM Cape Town, as well as the Gold Award for “Best Responsible Tourism Campaign”.

THINK HOT BUSINESS, INFLATABLE ROOMS AND LIVE ZONE EDUCATION...IMEX AMERICA 2017 TO MAJOR ON THE POWER OF EXPERIENCE

- Exhibitor diversity stronger than ever – to date almost 50 new booths and over 44 expanded booths
- Innovation attractions include inflatable domes and white space
- Brand new concept – Live Zone – brings ‘experiential’ front and center

Raising the experiential power of the 7th annual IMEX America, October 10–12 in Las Vegas, meeting pros from the US and around the world can expect to see and feel hundreds of fresh learning and design approaches they can “take back to the ranch”. They can also expect to meet even more exhibitors to connect and do business with, plus exposure to latest industry trends and issues.

The World of Meetings All in Vegas
During the IMEX week – which many buyers call one of the most productive of the year – over 3,200 organizations will highlight products, services, and destinations hailing from across North America and around the world and spanning all major meeting and event industry sectors, including incentive travel.

Pumping up the business value again this year, to date over 44 expanded booths and almost 50 entirely new booths are expected, with more to come before showtime. Those taking bigger booths for the 2017 edition include Hungary, Long Beach CVB, Panama, the Philippines, Tommy Bahama, Evenium, 3D Cruise Partners, IHG and the Greek National Tourism Organization to name a few.
Brand new to IMEX America this year are everyone from the Global Incentive DMC, Viking Cruises, the Connecticut Convention & Sports Bureau, Havana Strategies, Prince Hotels, Rwanda Convention Bureau, Moscow and Groups360… to a wide range of tech players. They include PigeonLab Pte, Events Ready and Lead Interaction who will all be exhibiting in the show’s dedicated Tech Pavilion. Several companies are also hosting their own booths for 2017 after having been booth partners in the past including: Ray Ban Events, the Mob Museum, Turkish Airlines, Austin Convention & Visitors Bureau and the Diplomat Beach Resort.

Inflatable Rooms, White Space and brand new ‘Live Zone’
Equally dynamic as the business conducted at the show is the learning scene, and this year won’t disappoint in terms of new features and ideas. Inflatable domes will be used for seminars and workshops at the Maritz sponsored Inspiration Hub - giving planners a vivid sense of potential meeting rooms of the future.

As a result, the Inspiration Hub is expanding in a new area next to the food court - Hall G. Alongside the growing Hub, IMEX is also launching a brand-new concept – the Live Zone. On Smart Monday, October 9, Gary Bordman, Chief Interactive Designer and founder of AE & EC will aim to spark creativity in a Live Zone Open House by showcasing LEGO furniture, games and more, all intended to inspire planners to step up their understanding and use of dynamic, interactive meeting and event experiences.

Then Tuesday – Thursday a number of performers and experiential artists will be showcased during Lunchtime Live Zone sessions from 11.30 am – 2.30 pm. These “free tasters” will allow planners to see, touch, hear and feel new-to-the-show products and services, each focused on creating lasting memories and deeper engagement. Sand Man, Joe Castillo, Heidi Schwartz of Paint Your Event plus the song-writing team from Song Division will be among those demonstrating their unique skills and abilities. BYOL (bring your own lunch.)

Complimenting this emphasis on ‘the power of live’ is Thursday morning’s MPI keynote by Brent Bushnell, CEO of Two Bit Circus. As a master of interactive experiences and immersive entertainment, Bushnell’s presentation offers a chance to delve further into all aspects of this powerful trend.

True to its talking point theme for 2017 - Purposeful Meetings - the IMEX team is offering a white space area close to the Inspiration Hub. ‘White space’ is the intentional design of time and space to allow people to chill out, clear their minds or take time to purposefully digest information. At IMEX attendees are also invited to use the IMEX white space to brainstorm with speakers.

Addressing this emerging topic in Tuesday’s MPI keynote will be Juliet Funt, CEO of WhiteSpace at Work. Funt is on a mission to embed the benefits of white space culture into organizations the world over. Her keynote will explain this unique, sanity-saving concept in detail; a rallying cry that super-stressed meeting planners are sure to respond to.

PCMA Business School urges ‘innovation more obtainable than you think’
Last but not least - and before the show floor even opens - Smart Monday, October 9, will encourage attendees to flex their innovation muscles at the ever popular PCMA Business School with Cleveland Justis, Executive Director of the UC Davis Institute for Innovation and Entrepreneurship. As an expert in getting ideas from the lab into the real world, Cleveland’s Business School session entitled “Innovation: It’s More Obtainable Than You Think” will focus on how to incorporate and increase innovation in day-to-day work.

Over 1,000 attendees traditionally take part in Smart Monday, powered by MPI. This unique pre-show education day features a diverse, high quality learning and development program, the majority of which is accredited.

THE pulse OF THE MEETINGS INDUSTRY.
Under the overarching conference theme of “The Future of Travel”, the organisers of ITB Asia, Messe Berlin (Singapore), have announced that this year’s keynote speeches will be delivered by industry leaders from IBM and Google, who will speak on the very latest trends in Artificial Intelligence (AI) including the impact, use and benefits of AI in the travel industry.

Starting from 9am on 25 October, the keynote addresses will be delivered by Tony Menezes, Vice President of Industrial and Distribution Sector at IBM Asia Pacific and Rob Torres, Managing Director of Advertising and Marketing at Google. Sharanjit Leyl, Presenter and Producer at BBC News will moderate the keynote session.

Tony Menezes will speak about the opportunities to fundamentally transform the travel industry with cognitive technology, and how IBM Watson is making travel experiences more personal, relevant and convenient. As Vice President, Industrial and Distribution Sector at IBM Asia Pacific, Tony Menezes is responsible for building and growing relationships across IBM’s portfolio of industry solutions, software, services and platforms. Prior to this, Tony was responsible for business development and sales of Cognitive Industry solutions, based on IBM Watson, the AI platform for business.

Rob Torres, Industry Director, Travel at Google will be speaking about how consumer expectations for seamless, assistive experiences in travel are higher than ever before. He will share how the Google Travel team is leveraging new digital trends and machine learning to build more immersive experiences for users across the travel journey. Google’s suite of travel products includes Google Flights, Google Hotel Ads, Destinations on Google, and Google Trips.

“Artificial intelligence is making real waves in the travel industry and changing the way business is done. We’re seeing an increasing number of travel and hospitality brands integrating AI into their online strategies in efforts to improve customer service and engagement and it is clearly a major trend that is here to stay. This year, we felt it was timely to have two influential experts in AI share their knowledge and insights at ITB Asia 2017, and we’re delighted to welcome Tony Menezes from IBM Asia Pacific and Rob Torres from Google as keynote speakers for what will no doubt be a truly exciting start to this year’s show”, said Katrina Leung, Executive Director of Messe Berlin (Singapore) and ITB Asia.

ITB Asia 2017 is expected to top the success of ITB Asia in 2016, where almost 900 buyers attended the show, leading to a 1:1 ratio between exhibitors and buyers whilst over 50% of buyers signed deals with exhibitors after the event. 43% of attending buyers had purchasing power of USD 500K – USD 1m and 85.7% of attending buyers were direct decision makers.

WTM London, the leading global event for the travel industry, has opened registration for its 2017 edition. WTM London 2017, which takes place between Monday 6 – Wednesday 8 November, is poised to be the most successful yet. The new-look three-day format, introduced last year, has been universally well received from all participant groups.

It is anticipated exhibitors will be able to conduct even more business than last year’s record £2.8 billion, due the introduction of a second buyers’ speed networking session on the Tuesday morning. This means every morning will have a speed networking session taking place at 9am – before the exhibition floor opens – at 10am. Monday sees buyers split by geography, the new Tuesday session sees buyers split by sector they purchase, with the Wednesday session being the Digital Influencers’ Speed Networking (formerly called the Bloggers’ Speed Networking).

The WTM Inspire Theatre, a 300-seater amphitheatre, returns to the exhibition floor in the North Hall of ExCeL – London, while the WTM International Media Centre will remain on the exhibition floor following last year’s successful relocation.

A taste of ILTM at WTM returns across all three days of the event and is joined by a new Wellness & Spa section on the exhibition floor. More than 80 conference seminars will take place throughout the three days covering all the key sectors including aviation, hotels, wedding and honeymoon, gastronomy, sports tourism, responsible tourism, digital influencers, social media and travel technology.

Monday 6 November will remain an exhibitor invite-only day, allowing exhibitors to conduct business meetings with key suppliers. The event will kick off with the WTM Speed Networking at 9am – before the exhibition floor opens at 10am. Tuesday 7 November will host the UNWTO & WTM Ministers’ Summit.

Wednesday 8 November will host World Responsible Tourism Day – the largest day of responsible tourism action in the world. WTM London 2017 will conclude with the WTM Festivals, which will see a number of exhibitors hosting parties showcasing their culture, music and cuisine.

WTM London 2016 saw more than 51,000 participants, including 9,900 buyers conducting business worth more than £2.8 billion with almost 5,000 exhibitors from 182 countries and regions.

WTM London, Senior Director, Simon Press said: “WTM London continues to improve every year, with 2017 poised to be the most successful yet. We anticipate around £3 billion worth of business will be agreed due to this year’s event between more than 5,000 exhibitors and almost 10,000 senior industry buyers.”

As always, there will be an incredibly broad spread of exhibitors. This year, some 3,000 exhibiting companies representing over 150 countries will attend, ensuring a comprehensive offering for meetings and events planners. Exhibitors range from destinations and conference centres to technology companies and suppliers from across the industry, and over 70,000 pre-scheduled meetings are set to take place over the three-day event.

The event’s Knowledge Programme, a huge draw for attendees, will this year be Headlined by two keynote speakers of global renown, one of whom is Dame Stella Rimington, author and the first female director general of MI5, the UK Security Service, who will draw on her 27 years’ experience in the Security Service to discuss her fascinating career and her work in counter-subversion, counter-espionage and counter-terrorism, as well as the industry’s outlook on safety and security going forward.

The second keynote speaker is Yancey Strickler, co-founder and CEO of crowdfunding website Kickstarter. For Yancey’s session, entitled ‘Resist and thrive, how new models and ways of thinking can beat the status quo,’ Yancey will draw on his almost decade-long experience in Kickstarter to explain the company’s unique history, its revolutionary decision to put its values ahead of profits, and share secrets on how the company formulates its innovative strategies.

The event’s market-leading Innovation Zone and Technology and Services Zone experience increased footfall every year as they provide a much-anticipated opportunity to discover and interact with the latest new and emerging technologies and solutions.

WHAT’S NEW FOR 2017?

There are several new initiatives for ibtm world 2017, all aimed at ensuring the best possible experience for customers and ensuring it remains an unmissable event on the industry calendar.

This year will also see the rollout of an enhanced Hosted Buyer programme which will now see ibtm events pre-selecting and qualifying Hosted Buyers allowing them to be fast-tracked through the process. This will allow ibtm events to be even more targeted in Connect with the global meetings, events and incentives industry

3,000 exhibitors representing over 150 countries to help you plan your future meetings & events

100 networking events to connect and engage with industry friends & colleagues

No.1 global market place for you to do business, network, learn & be inspired Connections mean everything.

Connect with us at www.ibtmworld.com ensuring the highest calibre Hosted Buyers are invited to attend the event. The programme also has been designed to deliver added value for exhibitors, by targeting buyers matched according to exhibitor needs.

A select group of elite invited Hosted Buyers will benefit from a new VIP experience which will include limousine transfers to and from the airport, access to an exclusive VIP lounge for the three days of the event, 5-star accommodation and a more flexible diary of appointments.

Additionally, on the back of research indicating a requirement for more appointments from both exhibitors and Hosted Buyers, this year Hosted Buyers will commit to 10 pre-scheduled appointments per day, creating more appointments and therefore more opportunities to do business.

As always, a huge part of the appeal of the event is the amazing breadth of exhibitors in attendance. Several exhibitors are this year taking bigger stands, and brands who had shared in previous years are choosing to take stands in their own right.

New exhibitors confirmed to attend this year include Visit Wales, Synergy International Italy, Fiesta Hotel Group, Meet Puerto Rico, Visit Almaty, Titanic Hotels, Ceara, Designer Incentives and Conferences India.

As always, the quality of Hosted Buyers is extremely high, with representation from large worldwide corporations such as Bank of America Merrill Lynch, Gucci, Mars Incorporated, L’Oreal Active Cosmetics, Microsoft, Montblanc, Philips, Volvo, The LEGO Group; Siemens Ltd.; UCI (Santander & BNP Paribas Spain); Burger King UK; Merck; Coriant GmbH and Portman.

Associations include The Optical Society, European Health Management Association, European Society of Ophthalmology, Association of International Seafood Professionals, European Cystic Fibrosis Europe, International Financial Cryptography Association, World Federation of Tourist Guide Associations, and UEFA.

Also new for 2017 is the Start-up Pavilion, where attendees can meet with an exciting mix of suppliers to discover and learn about new technologies and experiential solutions that are set to make a real impact on event planning and production in the future.

Further new initiatives and additions to the event will be announced in coming weeks.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE CORNER

On the eve of our World Congress in Hyderabad we find out what the members of the Executive Committee’s vision is for the new year, as well as their objectives and ideas for Skål International if they are voted into office.

VICE PRESIDENT SUSANNA SAARI

QUO VADIS SKÅL INTERNATIONAL?
This is the dramatic question at least my Skål-leagues in the Nordic countries as well as in Central Europe have been asking many times over the past years.

It would be naïve to claim that one person can make big changes in an association big as Skål but at the same time one must understand that choosing the right person(s) will be the key. I have been actively highlighting my ideas and also those of the Executive Committee over the past months at the eNews and the Magazine. Those who read and are interested – meaning you – are the key persons is shaping our future. I trust that decisions during the next AGM are made based on facts and trust. That you have done your homework. We need to take action NOW! As Conrad Hilton put it: “Achievement seems to be connected with action. Successful men and women keep moving. They make mistakes, but they don’t quit. Success... seems to be connected with action. Successful men and women keep moving. They make mistakes, but they don’t quit”. I stand before you as the Presidential candidate for 2018.

I hope by now you all have seen my campaign video that further highlight my ideas. I am willing to take action and prepared to fail but never to quit.

On the eve of our World Congress in Hyderabad we find out what the members of the Executive Committee’s vision is for the new year, as well as their objectives and ideas for Skål International if they are voted into office.

VICE PRESIDENT RAFAEL MILLAN

After 37 years as a Skål member, I can assure you that becoming a member of Skål International following an invitation in Mazatlan, Mexico in 1980, to join the association that brings together the principal executives in the tourism industry, was one of the best decisions of my life because I discovered an atmosphere of friendship, union and, in addition I am able to keep up-to-date on the issues affecting national and international tourism.

With time my passion for Skål International increased and this motivated me to become more active within my Club. I firmly believe that actions speak louder than words and my actions have seen eight Clubs founded in Mexico. Skål has filled me with satisfaction, joy and energy and has strengthened my resolve to encourage the values of loyalty, friendship, respect and integrity.

It is, therefore, painful for me today to see that we are losing members which leads me to conclude that we have to offer additional value to the membership such as improving the information given to Skål members on tourism matters, greater diffusion of Skål in the press and on social media and greater interaction with other tourism organisations both in the private and public sectors. We should invite key tourism personalities to our Clubs to increase membership and implement, as standard, sustainable tourism and participate in global events with an authoritative voice.

Our vital objective should be to modernise and update the Skål Movement and an immediate priority should be Young Skål. We should sow today what we wish to reap tomorrow. Finally, in my role as Vice President with the responsibility for finances I have focused my efforts on achieving a sound financial position for Skål International which I am pleased to confirm has been achieved. We are, therefore, ready to undertake the digital transformation of our Association to adapt it to the world today, without losing the essence of what make Skål a unique organisation. We are the ambassadors of FRIENDSHIP in the tourism industry.
DIRECTOR MARIA TERESA DIAZ

MY OBJECTIVES FOR 2017-2018 ARE:
1. Enjoy the work entrusted to me in the new team-group formed after the General Assembly in Hyderabad
2. Work with passion, perseverance and discipline to achieve the goals given to us both as a group and individually
3. Meet members attending Skål events to develop personal and professional synergies
4. To feel part of the change so that our Association becomes “A voice of confidence in tourism”
5. Learn from each of the decisions taken in our daily work
6. Give and receive trust from my work team
7. Work with illusion on the 2017-2018 project

DIRECTOR LAVONNE WITTMANN

It is not easy to please everybody all the time and even more difficult when our membership base involves multi cultural, multi linguistic and different generations located in different cities, countries and continents.

What I am confident of is that we all bleed red and irrespective of what our backgrounds are, our financial strengths, our cultural differences or positions in our workplaces, we all have a common denominator! Our choice of travel and tourism organisation. We all have faith in Skål, we all benefit and enjoy the networking opportunities and always have a common point of interest to start a conversation from or just feel a common sense of belonging when members meet, even when we don’t always understand the language.

Even though I respect and honor the rules, regulations, protocols, manuals and statutes of our brilliant organisation, I am always confused at how embroiled we all become in these aspects and sometimes forget the reasons why we joined Skål in the first place... meeting the most incredible, talented, experienced individuals in our industry. People who have travelled the world and occupy the highest positions in a company and most times in their own business.

Each of us has so much to offer and we have an effective platform to do so on the Skål International stage But do we always get involved or embrace all the opportunities?

WHAT ARE MY OBJECTIVES FOR SKÅL ?
• Encourage (even more) communication and networking amongst members
• Share knowledge and experiences amongst members to benefit each other and the organisation
• Enhance the visibility and relevance (even more) of Skål International to the greater Travel and Tourism Industry
• Collaborate (even more) with our partner organisations
• Highlight our basket of benefits and publish positive testimonies of members that have benefitted.
• Encourage, enthuse and motivate our members to constantly LIVE THE SKÅL BRAND.

I have used the words "even more" as hopefully I have achieved my initial goals over the past two years that I have served as the PR and Communications Director.

As Lou Holtz said: Ability is what you are capable of doing; Motivation determines what you do; Attitude determines how well you do it.

I have always aspired to achieve all three levels while serving on the Executive Committee and will continue to carry these attributes throughout my tenure as I serve you, the member.

"The achievements of an Organisation are the results of the combined effort of each individual.” Vince Lombardi

Upwards and Onwards! Skål

PERSONAL OBJECTIVES:
On a professional basis, I have been known as a doer and a problem solver.

If elected to the position of Director on the Executive Committee I will bring expertise on two major areas: Statutes and Finances.

My experience leading or being on the Statutes Committee for Skål International, the USA National Committee and my local Club provides me the tools to fulfill this portfolio. My experience includes assisting creating a Policy and Procedure Manual for Skål International USA in 1988 and participating in every update. Skål International must review our current documents and updating them to make them friendlier while maintaining the legal requirements.

My financial experience will allow me to assist in creating a realistic budget and come up with innovative ways and ideas to add value to the Members.

Skål needs to work on communication to grow membership. Currently our vision is “To be a trusted voice in travel and tourism”. Although our goal, unfortunately most persons in the industry have not heard of Skål. Skål is the best kept secret around the world. As a start, we need to find ways to encourage every National Committee and/or Club to provide the names of the major travel or hospitality publications in their country and then include these missing publications on press releases. This is the cheapest form of advertising.

Concerning membership Skål needs to implement a plan to prorate dues for those who apply in June or later. Currently Clubs are holding applications until November. We need to make them a member while they are interested.
After leaving his Secondary Schooling at Wellington College where he was the Head Boy (Head Prefect) in his last year 1975, Peter Morrison started working for Lion Nathan Ltd. He was chosen at 17 years of age to be a Management Cadet in their Hotels Division. Peter completed a Diploma in Hotel Management in his first 2 years with Lion. He worked for Lion for 15 years, managing his own Hotel at the young age of 20. His career with Lion culminated in him being appointed to the position of General Manager of their “Flag-Ship” Hotel – The Hotel Russley in Christchurch. He held this position for 10 years. When Lion decided to sell all their Hotels in 1991, Peter with a group of local businessmen purchased the Hotel Russley.

At this time Peter started his own company – Morrison Hospitality Management Ltd.

A few years later Peter sold his shareholding and opened a number of award winning Restaurant Bars in Christchurch, namely Morrisons on Merrin and Mansfield House.

Since 2006 his company has had the Management Contract of The Classic Villa. This is a Qualmark 5 Star Boutique Hotel of 12 luxurious rooms and small convention areas. It has won many accolades and is one of the leading sponsors in Christchurch City of the Arts, Culture and Music. (Peter loves playing the Piano).

During his career Peter has been heavily involved in the Hotel Association of New Zealand (now called Hospitality NZ) – 3300 members.

He has been a Director (Board Member) of Hospitality NZ for the past 10 years and is currently (last 6 years) in charge of Finance as the National Treasurer.

Peter is also entering his 14th year as President of the local branch of Hospitality NZ – Canterbury-420 members.

Peter is also currently Treasurer of The Friends of The Arts Centre in Christchurch. This is a huge complex of Heritage buildings across the Boulevard from his hotel. They were badly damaged in the Earthquakes of 2010 and 2011. The repairs are costing NZ$320 million. Our aim is: “to assist with fundraising, promote and encourage the use and enjoyment of the Arts Centre as an outstanding cultural centre for the benefit of the people of Christchurch, New Zealand and Internationally”. Peter is also involved with a number of other Tourism related associations in Christchurch, such as Christchurch and Canterbury Tourism and Christchurch City Council Events Strategy.

Peter has recently been awarded an Order of Merit in the Queen’ Birthday Honours for services to the hospitality and tourism industry.
2004 to 2017  Member, Skål International Christchurch
2006 to 2008  Vice President, Skål International Christchurch
2008 to 2010  President, Skål International Christchurch
2008 to 2010  Vice President, Skål International New Zealand
2011 to 2012  President, Skål International New Zealand
2012  Acting International Skål Councillor, New Zealand
2013 to 2017  International Skål Councillor, New Zealand

PERSONAL OBJECTIVES:
Manaakitanga – to respect and look after the values and people that make up Skål.
In terms of professional background, I bring to the Executive Committee many years of experience as a Board Director and Business Owner.

My vision for Skål is to be the modern, digitally able and world leading Association for Tourism and Hospitality Professionals. In the next 12 months we need to quickly halt the membership decline. With the new Strategic Plan highlighting Digital and the new Membership Development Fund in place. These both need to be implemented urgently and publicized to the general membership. Future proofing Skål by really going out to attract younger members.

In four years time I suggest we will still be growing the membership and more benefits need to be attractive to a younger segment. Hopefully the membership increase will justify the current staffing level. Natural attrition should not be ignored though.

I am acutely aware of the time that I will have to attribute to this position. If elected it is my intention to resign as Treasurer of Friends of the Arts Centre and retire as President of Hospitality NZ – Canterbury. Of course, I will no longer be the International Councilor for NZ.

I am extremely lucky that the business I own can be run remotely at times and I have fabulous staff and my partner Jan who admirably run the place in my absence.

I can confirm that I meet all the requirements to become a Director of Skål International.

In 2010, Skål International Argentina named him Skålleague of the Year in recognition of his distinguished performance and participation.

He participates in the annual world and Latin-American Congresses of Skål International.

PERSONAL OBJECTIVES:

Transform the development of Skål by analyzing the annual budgets and adjusting them so that the development of the association has, as a premise, the satisfaction of members who must feel that they are supported by the association.

Try to ensure that members benefit from congresses with reduced registration fees and transportation facilities when travelling to the countries where they are held.

The Strategic Plan should be the guide which fixes the responsibilities and actions to be undertaken in the coming years.

Ensure wide-ranging of what Skål is and as our current President, David J. Fisher, said “Together we can and will make Skål grow and be relevant”.

Work to ensure that Skål is considered as a valid partner in the tourism industry worldwide.

Schuyler W. Lininger is the owner and operator of a small resort hotel, The Lodge on the Desert, Tucson, AZ. He managed the Minoqua Country Club, Minoqua, WI, for two years.

In 2016 both Schuyler and Skål International Tucson celebrated their 50th Anniversary and Skålleagues from all over the world attended this special occasion. Both the city of Tucson and Pima County honoured Schuyler by designating this special day as “Schuyler Lininger Day”.

Throughout the past 50 years, Schuyler has been the inspiration of Skål International Tucson members and he rose through the ranks locally, regionally and nationally. He consulted with many local Clubs through his continued involvement and passion for the Skål movement. He has uniquely displayed his love for Skål by continuing his involvement long after his tenure in office, having attended 28 national and 23 international congresses on six continents. While his leadership presence is well-known by Skålleagues around the world, Schuyler’s leadership in the Tucson’s community also flourished. Operating his historic hotel, Lodge in the Desert, for 50 years, his leadership continued in many of the tourism and community organisations as President including Arizona Lodging and Hotel Association, Southern Arizona Innkeepers and Ranch Association, as well as top leadership positions in the Salvation Army Advisory Board, Pima County on Aging, Arizona Office of Tourism and many more organisation.

Schuyler has been awarded several award distinctions throughout his career.
